Aerial Survey Instructor/Pilot

Keystone Aerial Surveys is a leading airborne data acquisition company.

We are currently seeking a full-time Aerial Survey Instructor/Pilot to train pilots survey flying techniques while also serving as a pilot to conduct survey operations in a high-performance Cessna 200/300 or 400 series aircraft at one of our branch offices (PA, TX, NV or CA).

An ideal Keystone Aerial Survey Instructor/Pilot will not only be able to fly safely and efficiently but be willing and able to teach concepts, procedures and tasks related to quality aerial surveying in all learning styles (Learning styles to include but not limited to Visual, Verbal, Logical, etc.). The ideal candidate can expect to have two primary duties:

- Fly - at least 200 - 400 hours per year and traveling 60+% within the US.
- Teach – preparing/implementing training material for newly hired pilots

Aerial Survey Instructor/Pilot requirements are as follows:

- CFI w/ minimum 5 years instruction experience w/a proven track record of successful impactful instruction
- Minimum 1,000 hours TT (min 500 single pilot fixed wing aerial survey hours)
- commercial certificate with single and multi-engine instrument rating
- high-performance endorsement
- instrument current & proficient
- 30 flight hours in last 90 days (10 hours single pilot)
- Last 100 hours flown in US airspace
- hold a valid driver's license
- ability to lift 50 pounds intermittently; sit for long periods of time in a small aircraft
- ability to work a flexible schedule, including weekends and holidays
- single-pilot flight experience
- experience flying in Class B airspace
- previous experience in Cessna 206/210/310 and/or 441 aircraft
- attention to detail with the ability to demonstrate confidence, professionalism, high self-motivation and solid decision-making abilities
- ability or ownership of a passport

Benefits:

- An opportunity to see different parts of the US
- Paid in-service per diem, hotel & car accommodations
- Healthcare coverage (including medical, dental, vision & prescription)
- 401(k) participation
- Paid Time Off (with the ability to earn additional “field awarded paid time off hours”)
- Sick time

Why work for Keystone? We offer an opportunity to utilize all aviation skills including but not limited to: cross country, IFR, VFR, high altitude, low altitude, operating in all airspace, etc. Keystone's fleet consists only of high performance aircraft, mostly multi-engine.

In this position, the application of keen communication, high intelligence and keen piloting skills is necessary to accomplish challenging flying/instruction. We are a thriving, growing organization. This is no ordinary Part 91 job – it offers exciting flying opportunities but involves a LOT more than just flying.
